

REGULATION (EU) 2016/679 OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL (hereinafter "the Regulation") provides for the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data and repealing Regulation (EC) No 95/46, that the Data Controller takes appropriate measures to provide the data subject with all information concerning the processing of personal data in a concise, transparent, comprehensible and easily accessible form, in a clear and comprehensible manner, and that the Data Controller facilitates the exercise of the data subject's rights.

The prior information obligation of the data subject on the right to information self-determination and freedom of information is set out in Act CXII of 2011. also required by law.

We comply with this legal obligation by reading the information below.

what do we do with your information?

When you purchase something from our store, as part of the buying and selling process, we collect the personal information you give us such as your name, address and email address.

When you browse our store, we also automatically receive your computer's internet protocol (IP) address in order to provide us with information that helps us learn about your browser and operating system.

Email marketing (if applicable): With your permission, we may send you emails about our store, new products and other updates.

When you provide us with personal information to complete a transaction, verify your credit card, place an order, arrange for a delivery or return a purchase, we imply that you consent to our collecting it and using it for that specific reason only.

We may disclose your personal information if we are required by law to do so or if you violate our Terms of Service.

THIRD PARTY SERVICES

In general, the third-party providers used by us will only collect, use and disclose your information to the extent necessary to allow them to perform the services they provide to us.

However, certain third-party service providers, such as payment gateways and other payment transaction processors, have their own privacy policies in respect to the information we are required to provide to them for your purchase-related transactions.

For these providers, we recommend that you read their privacy policies so you can understand the manner in which your personal information will be handled by these providers.

PAYLIKE

Paylike collects and process data and is therefore obliged to keep our customers and users data safe and adhere to various laws and regulations. On the below pages, you can read our policies and guides on data and privacy compliance.

Paylike ApS (hereafter referred to as 'we') is fully committed to protecting your privacy. We collect and process personal information about the users (hereafter referred to as 'you') of our payment solution.

All information is processed in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679 (hereafter referred to as 'GDPR'). When we process personal data, a specific purpose and legal basis is required in order to comply with the GDPR. We do not process your information for other purposes than the ones listed below.

Payment information

When you initiate a payment through our payment solution, we receive your payment instrument information, e.g. your payment card details. The purpose of the processing is to carry out the payment which you have initiated, either when making a purchase or when subscribing to a service with recurring payments.

The processing is necessary for our legitimate interest in accordance with the GDPR article 6 (1) (f). Our legitimate interest is to ensure that the payment is carried out correctly.

We store payment data until it is no longer necessary to process the data for the above-mentioned purpose. However, there are situations in which we must keep the data for a longer period of time, in order to comply with other European Union or Member State legislation.

Who do we share personal information with?

As is true with most companies, we can't do everything by ourselves. This is why we have to share your personal information with other companies who act as our data processors etc. We only share personal information with these companies when it's necessary in order to achieve the purposes mentioned above, and they only process your personal information with this objective.

In some cases, the companies we share your personal information with, are located outside of the European Union. This means that these companies must comply with extended data protection requirements according to the GDPR. The GDPR allows us to share with companies located in the US, if these are registered under the "Privacy Shield". This framework ensures that companies registered comply with the data protection requirements, and has been approved by the European Commission in accordance with the GDPR article 45 (1).
